

Bachelor of Science in Information Technology

California State University at Channel Islands (CSUCI) is pleased to announce plans to launch a new B.S. degree program in Information Technology beginning Fall 2005*.

- Program designed especially for community college students completing a technology program (networking, electronics, etc.)
- Applications for the Fall semester will be accepted beginning December 1st
- Distance education options for completing the Channel Islands coursework are planned
- Lower Division requirements (to be completed at the community college):
 - CSU GE Certification
 - Semester one a lab science (biology, chemistry or physics)
 - Elementary Statistics
 - Programming Course (Java, C++, or C)
 - Computer Architecture/Assembly Language
 - Minimum of 10 units of Technology coursework (including CISCO, A+, electronics, etc.)
- Upper Division Requirements: 60 units of course work to be completed at CSUCI

For further information please email:
skatz@csun.edu

* Pending approval by Academic Senate and CSU Chancellor's Office.

 Students may be admitted conditionally prior to completion of all lower division coursework